GUIDE TO MOODLE ACCESS

<https://elearning.projectteatime.eu/>

Transmission of Experience through Digitally Trained Senior Mentors to Mentees (TEaTIME) project is a research-driven project aiming for senior citizens who are regarded as digitally low-skilled but good at their current job and willing to transmit their profession to younger generations.

The senior citizens will have three tailor-made training modules namely; Mentorship, Conflict of Generations, and Digital Competence which will enable them to learn to communicate with the younger generation, to use digital devices easily, and to transmit their professions to young mentees.

This project will be worked in Moodle, a Learning Content Management System (LCMS). LCMS is a platform that integrates authoring, delivery, publishing and analysis of content in a multi-user environment. It is like a virtual campus.
